PROTECT YOURSELF

Do your research

If a property sounds too good to be true, it usually is. Know the market average in your city.

Rent from the right person

Only deal with the property owner or a licensed property management company.

Get it in writing

Ensure you have a written agreement with the landlord.

Have a paper trail

Never send funds through wire transfer or pay in cash. Get receipts for everything.

Look at the inside

Never rent a property without seeing the inside.
